The screenshot shows the Yu:joo website on a desktop browser. The top navigation bar includes links for About, Store, Login/Join, and a search icon. Below the navigation is a large hero image featuring a bright yellow armchair, a small round wooden table with a blue lamp and a potted plant, and a colorful geometric pillow. To the right of the image is a 'Search store' button with a map icon. A horizontal menu bar below the hero image contains links for relax, kids, read, place, and knowledge. At the bottom of the page, there's a footer with social media icons for GitHub, Blog, E-mail, about, book, Review, Flickr, and YouTube. A 'Recent Reviews' section at the very bottom shows a hand writing in a notebook.

The screenshot shows the same Yu:joo website on a tablet device. The layout is adapted to a smaller screen, with the hero image and menu bar being less prominent. The horizontal menu bar at the bottom is still present but appears differently. The overall design is more compact and focused on the central content area.

The screenshot shows the Yu:joo website on a mobile phone. The layout is significantly compressed. The hero image and menu bar are completely removed, leaving only the main content area visible. The 'Recent Reviews' section at the bottom is still present but looks different due to the lack of surrounding context.
